Dear Family of Faith,

Sister Joan Chittister is a prolific writer and nationally known speaker, and a Benedictine nun. Maybe you've read some of her books.

From earliest childhood, Sister Joan aspired to two things: to serve God, and to write fiction. As a novice, with permission from her order, she applied to the program in creative writing at Iowa State University—one of the best in the United States.

Imagine how thrilled she was to learn she'd been accepted! All winter long, she was walking on air. Indeed, it was not until well into May that, out of nowhere, the Benedictines wrote to say that although they had permitted her to apply, they would not allow her to matriculate.

Much later, Sister Joan wrote a book about it, called Scarred by Struggle, Transformed by Hope. The book is a chronicle of grief, anger, frustration, and her struggle to make something good out of it all. At first, she was so lost in sadness that she was near despair. Gradually, she came to terms with what had happened, began to see beyond what felt like pointless injustice, and eventually found her way into the wonderful writing on the Bible, women's experience, and the life of faith for which we know her.

We begin Advent "scarred by struggle." The world is hurting, our country is hurting, our city is hurting, our own families are hurting. We are all struggling, whether with one another, or against impossible odds, or only silently and invisibly within our own hearts.

Advent begins with our yearning for the Cosmic Christ to return and, at last, bring shalom to us all: peace, justice, well-being, wholeness, healing. If all these things are in place, if justice is done and we are all in right relation with one another and with God, then we shall indeed know true peace: in which everyone has enough, and everyone who has enough is satisfied with what they have.

We remember all the Christmases past, we unpack all the memories with the decorations, and we add new ones, too, as we go along. We begin to catch the excitement, and the hope, of the Christ Child—made more piercingly sweet by the cold, the darkness, and the waiting.

In a chapter entitled "The Gift of Endurance," Chittister writes,

Endurance ... does not mean "success." It means being willing to cope with what is—until something else begins. It means being open to the possibility that things will stay the way they are, perhaps indefinitely. It means that I must begin to be open to becoming something new."

So this Advent, as we begin our journey together in God's beautiful, broken world; as we remember departed loved ones and greet new friends, as we pray for God's will to be done, starting (of course) with ourselves, let's draw close to the warmth of God's eternal love, bursting forth among us in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Advent Blessings, Mary

Looking Ahead to January Adult Forum

When we planned the year's program for Adult Forum, our beloved Randy Woodfield had agreed to present a series on Music with Strong Spiritual Dimensions. The regular attendees to Adult Forum have discussed several ways that we could address this same topic, although not with the level of expertise and insight that Randy would have provided. We will begin the series with a program on "Hymns that Move the Spirit." We'll meet Sunday in the Chapel, where we can use the piano that Randy gave to Faith. Be thinking of a hymn that you would like to sing and be ready to give us a few minutes on why you think that hymn moves the spirit. And stay tuned for further information about the other January programs.

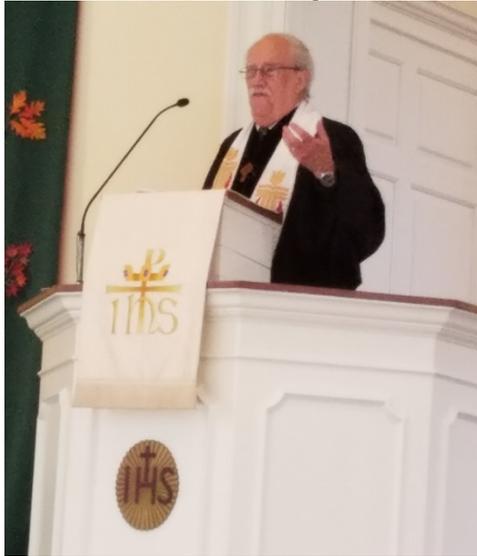

WORSHIP & THE ARTS

Greening of the Sanctuary

Saturday, December 10, 9:00-noon

Please come and enjoy the fellowship while decorating the sanctuary for Christmas. There is something over all ages to do.

All Saints Sunday

On the first Sunday of November we remembered Christian Dunyoh, Mildred Miller and Dorothy Weller, Faith Church members who died during the previous 12 months. Rev. David C. Harris preached and celebrated the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The congregation was invited to light candles in memory of loved ones. Soprano Ayanna Freelon sang Andrew Lloyd Weber's Pie Jesu during the lighting.

Thanksgiving Sunday

Thank you to Pat Nesbitt for creating this beautiful arrangement.

GEDCO

At the GEDCO Thanksgiving Tribute, two wonderful members of our congregation were honored for their significant civic contributions and support for GEDCO. Ellen & Ed Bernard were recognized with the Jack Sharp Award. Please join in congratulating Ed and Ellen for their good works and for continuing the Faith tradition of providing leadership in the GEDCO organization as demonstrated by earlier honorands Pat Thompson and Christa Burns.

Habitat

On Saturday, January 12 there will be a Faith Home Blessing at 747 McCabe Avenue. This is very similar to a Home Dedication, but instead will be specific to just our faith coalition supporters. For now, it would be great if you'd mark your calendars for this truly heartwarming event. The start time will be around noon. More details to come on this. More build dates for January, February and March will be out in early December. Contact Natalie Wallace for more information.

STEWARDSHIP

Faith Endures!

Romans 15:5 "May the God who gives endurance and encouragement give you the same attitude of mind toward each other..."

Although our Stewardship Campaign has seen its formal end, it is not really over until we have received your pledges! Over the past month, we began worship with some wonderful moments for stewardship from several members of our congregation who reflected on the people who inspire them and are an important reason why Faith Endures. As we move into the Advent season, please remember your gifts from Faith and your gifts to Faith. Please return your pledge card as soon as possible so that the church budget can be set for the coming year. And thanks to those of you who have already made your commitment to help Faith endure.

If you have any questions regarding the pledge card and/or the automatic payment form please feel free to reach out to –

Shredding by Andre

Andre's Shredding Service had a good backlog for the next couple of weeks, but please remember to set aside your sensitive documents so that we can supply a steady stream. Also, there is no need to shred business envelopes or unsolicited mass mailings (home service offers, pizza flyers, etc.) that you receive. You can just tear your name or name label off and rip it up or set that aside for shredding, but recycle the envelope or form letter, once devoid of personal information, with your regular recycling. Here are links to two websites that contain more specific suggestions for how to protect your privacy.
