By God's grace, we are who we are:

People who are called, yet may be hesitant to follow.

By God's grace, we are who we are:

People who are called, and draw from wells of courage.

By God's grace, we are called:

With courage, we respond: here we are, send us!

Call to Confession

Prayer of Confession

Merciful God, you give us eyes to see the need around us, and yet we look away. We hide the bright hope you have given us, and our voices quiver and shake, unable to share your good news. Forgive us! Inspire in us such compassion that we cannot help but serve, such certainty in your call that we invite others to join us along the way. We open our hearts to you in silent prayer.

Kyrie 578 O Lord, Have Mercy

Old Testament Reading Isaiah 6: 1-8

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lofty; and the hem of his robe filled the temple. Seraphs were in attendance above him; each had six wings: with two they covered their faces, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew. And one called to another and said:

'Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts;
the whole earth is full of his glory.'

The pivots on the thresholds shook at the voices of those who called, and the house filled with smoke. And I said: 'Woe is me! I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts!'

Then one of the seraphs flew to me, holding a live coal that had been taken from the altar with a pair of tongs. The seraph touched my mouth with it and said: 'Now that this has touched your lips, your guilt has departed and your sin is blotted out.' Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, 'Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?' And I said, 'Here am I; send me!'

Gospel Reading Luke 5:1-11

Once while Jesus was standing beside the lake of Gennesaret, and the crowd was pressing in on him to hear the word of God, he saw two boats there at the shore of the lake; the fishermen had gone out of them and were washing their nets. He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little way from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, 'Put out into the deep water and let down your nets for a catch.' Simon answered, 'Master, we have worked all night long but have caught nothing. Yet if you say so, I will let down the nets.' When they had done this, they caught so many fish that their nets were beginning to break. So they signaled to their partners in the other boat to come and help them. And they came and filled both boats, so that they began to sink. But when Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, 'Go away from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man!' For he and all who were with him were amazed at the catch of fish that they had taken; and so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. Then Jesus said to Simon, 'Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching people.' When they had brought their boats to shore, they left everything and followed him.

This is the word of God, for the people of God.

THE FORUM 9:15 on Zoom*The Theology of the City*February 6-27 – Dr. Arthur Sutherland

This is a four-week series on the theology of the city. We are going to look at three views of the city found in the Bible and relate our findings to our own experiences and thinking about living in the city. The first three weeks would look at contrasting views of the city: Are cities good or bad? What do cities promise or offer? What are the problems of cities?

The last week would be a group meditation on FPC's mission in relation to what we have discovered.
